and increases the risk of having a stroke by 30 percent.

There is plenty of incentive to quit, but it isn't easy. The good news is that acupuncture has helped millions of people to kick the smoking habit.

How acupuncture can help

Some of the largest stumbling blocks to becoming smoke-free are the stress, anxiety and depression associated with quitting. Fortunately, acupuncture treatment is quite successful at calming and relaxing the mind, reducing anxiety and alleviating depressive feelings. Specific acupoints in the ear and wrist are used to accomplish this. Additional acupoints may be included to help suppress your appetite, stimulate repair and healing of organ systems, and reduce food and nicotine cravings.

More than just kicking the habit

Using acupuncture to quit smoking yields enormous benefits. Aside from taking care of the stumbling blocks that can cause you to resume the habit, acupuncture can help restore your body to a healthy state of balance and well-being. If you are ready to become smoke-free, acupuncture can provide you with the support you need.

Healthy Tips

Here are a few tips to guide you through your acupuncture care:

- Drink plenty of filtered water.
- Eat balanced, healthy meals with a variety of vegetables and fruits.
- Refrain from sugar, which can increase sugar cravings and unwanted weight gain.
- Manage your cravings. They will actually fade within a few minutes. When cravings arise, distract yourself. Before you know it, the craving will have passed.
- Take daily baths or showers and scrub your skin with a dry brush or loofah to facilitate the cleansing process and help blood circulation.
- Avoid spending time with other smokers so that you are less tempted to smoke.
- Take a walk outside and breathe deeply. Upon exhale, gently place your teeth together and exhaling with the sound of “ssssssss.” This sound stimulates the lungs.

Acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine can provide a safe, natural, and effective way to quit smoking. The focus is upon achieving a balance of body and mind, and eliminating cravings so you can become smoke-free and healthier.
